

DHM DESIGN

KYLE DAVIS

Senior Associate | LEED AP

Kyle Davis joined DHM in 2006 after graduating from Colorado State University. His interests in connecting people with nature, sustainable design and creating exciting outdoor spaces have led him to work on projects that focus on offering unique places that are mindful of the environment and have lasting value to their communities. Inspired by nature and building upon other great ideas, he has brought a fresh perspective to DHM's planned community, residential, greenway and park design projects.

NOTABLE WORK

Fronterra Park | Commerce City, CO

The 19.8-acre park features an active, nature-inspired theme with dedicated play areas, open fitness space and walking/jogging path. The site is located in between Stuart Middle School and Second Creek Elementary School, in the Fronterra Park neighborhood. DHM worked with the City of Commerce City and the community which voted on the overall concept and preferred optional elements. After three public meetings and online input, the community voted on an open space, fitness loop and walking/jogging path. Our design team refined the design to reflect the community's input while staying within schedule and budget.

River Run Park | Sheridan, CO

DHM provided planning services for river improvements along the South Platte River including a 10' wide multi-use trail, vegetation, interpretive features, trailhead improvements, overlooks and seating areas alongside a water play features in the river. This section of the river features Colorado's first urban river surfing opportunity. DHM also provided community outreach services, conceptual design, design development, 3D imaging and construction documents.

Reynolds Landing | Littleton, CO

DHM Design prepared a conceptual master plan illustrating a long term vision for the river, surrounding open spaces and adjacent development at Reynolds' Landing in Littleton, Colorado. The master plan leveraged the assets of the existing site including the adjacent pond, topography, cottonwood groves and river features. We incorporated better river access and amenities in addition to enhanced landscape, nature trails, picnic shelters, natural play features, restroom and interpretive features. Additionally, DHM Design was retained to prepare construction documents to realize the master plan in phases. We assisted with bidding and construction administration while working closely with the client and contractor.
